GREEN DEAL – FUTURE PERSPECTIVES

In recent years, the world has experienced unprecedented challenges that touched all pillars of sustainable development and that have not escaped agriculture either. One of the most emergent issues in today's world is the issue of sustainable development from the perspective of climate change. The European Union has responded to this challenge with a set of policy initiatives Green Deal. It is not surprising that the proposed goals provoke a broad societal debate. And this is a compelling reason for a joint meeting to exchange views, experiences, and results of scientific research to contribute to solving this problem based on scientific knowledge free from simplistic and tendentious opinions. The conference Agrarian Perspectives has a long tradition in this regard, and the meetings in recent years proved their usefulness and scientific value. The organisers are looking forward to meeting all researchers, academics and experts who are not indifferent to the future perspectives of agriculture on the occasion of the next conference held in Prague. Authors are invited to send their abstracts in electronic format via the link ap.pef.czu.cz by 13th March 2022.
